MEDIA ALERT

American Painter Don Sahli
Participated in Two Prestigious Invitational Shows:
2nd Annual American Art Invitational at Saks Galleries, Denver, Colorado
And
Allied Artists of America 95th Annual Exhibition at the National Arts Club in New York City

Who: Don Sahli – an American painter, teacher of the Russian School of Impressionism, and the last apprentice to the famous Russian colorist Sergei Bongart.

The American Art Invitational was conceived in 2007 as a showcase for top American contemporary masters and important Representational art to the Denver arts community.

The Allied Artists of America, since 1914, continues to achieve the goal of furthering the cause of contemporary American artists through its Annual National Open Exhibition in New York City.

What: Don Sahli accepted the invitations to participate in two prestigious invitational national shows. He was thrilled to have his artwork included the 2nd Annual American Art Invitational and the Allied Artists of America 95th Annual Exhibition at the National Arts Club in New York City.

Why: Don Sahli's paintings embody times, emotions and places of our country's landscape. Through his artistic vision and technique, he captures the essential qualities of our world in ways that create emotional responses in the viewer and collectors. With his focus on America and its beauty, it was with honor that he participated in these two national shows.
